

The health and wellbeing of the LGBTIQ+ population in Victoria

Findings from the Victorian Population Health Survey 2017

A significantly higher proportion of LGBTIQ+ adults:

never, or not often, felt valued by society were members of other community groups felt multiculturalism made life in their area better were in contact with 1–4 people on the previous day rented their home.

A significantly lower proportion of LGBTIQ+ adults:

were able to get help from family or neighbours when needed could get a relative or friend to care for them or their children in an emergency were members of a sports group lived for 10 years, or more, in their current neighbourhood.

Please note that only statistically significant differences are presented for the measures listed above.
